The Great Depression and the New Deal
1933-1938
FDR: A Politician in a Wheelchair

- In 1932, voters still had not seen any improvement, and wanted a new president.
- President Herbert Hoover was nominated again without much vigor and true enthusiasm.
- The Democrats nominated Franklin Delano Roosevelt:
  - FDR was suave and conciliatory
  - FDR was stricken with polio in 1921
  - Eleanor was to become the most active First Lady ever

The Humiliation of Hoover in 1932

- Hoover was defeated 472 to 59
- Noteworthy was the transition of Blacks from the Republican to the Democratic Party.
- Hooverites would later accuse FDR of letting the depression worsen so that he could emerge an even more shining savior.

FDR and the Three R’s: Relief, Recovery, and Reform

- On Inauguration Day, FDR asserted, “the only thing we have to fear is fear itself.”
- He called for a nationwide banking holiday
- First 100 days of FDR’s administration were filled with more legislative activity than ever before
  - Copied a lot of bills that Europe had used to help itself during post-WWI depression

Roosevelt’s 100 days was very successful....FDR and Congress went to work providing for direct relief, recovery and reform.

- From March of 1933 to June of 1933, Roosevelt sent 15 proposals to Congress and all 15 were adopted
- Congress and President tried anything reasonable to overcome the Great Depression.
Roosevelt Tackles Money and Banking

- The Emergency Banking Relief Act of 1933
- Fireside Chats
- Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Solved Bank Problem)
- FDR then took the nation off of the gold standard

- also called the Wagner Act
- It guaranteed workers the right to organize unions without interference from employers and to bargain collectively.
- The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) which organized factory elections by secret to determine whether workers wanted a union.
- The NLRB then certified successful unions.
- The new law also set up a process whereby dissatisfied union members could take their complaints to binding arbitration, in which neutral party would listen to both sides and decide issues.
- The NLRB was authorized to investigate the actions of employers and had the power to issue “cease and desist” orders against unfair practices.

Response to critics (Dr. Townsend and Huey Long), it provided pensions, unemployment insurance, aid to blind, deaf, disabled, and dependent children.

One of the most important features of the New Deal:
- Established a retirement for persons over 65 funded by a tax on wages paid equally by employee and employer.

Welfare state—Created a population of Americans who relied on the US Govt. to live

SOCIALISM

- Economic system based on cooperation rather than competition
- Believes in government ownership of business and capital
- Government controls production and distribution of goods.
- Opposite of laissez faire and capitalism

FATHER CHARLES COUGHLIN

- A Roman Catholic priest.
- Radio Priest in Detroit Michigan.
- Criticized FDR in weekly radio program.
- 10 million listeners.
- Criticized FDR's farm program
  - Believed an international conspiracy of bankers existed and FDR was influenced by them.

Every Man a King

Legacy of New Deal

Successes of New Deal

- Stimulated the economy
- Put people back to work....
- Improved morale and self-confidence of the people
- US Govt's. role changes and became directly involved in helping people
- WWII ended the Great Depression not FDR's New Deal

The Political Spectrum

- FDR's New Deal walked a tightrope between the extreme positions of the left and right.
- Critics would claim it was unconstitutional, socialism, anti-laissez faire and went too far to the left.
- Others would claim the New Deal didn’t go far enough to the left......
Nine Old Men on the Supreme Bench

- FDR controlled Congress, but the Supreme Court kept on blocking his programs, so he proposed a shocking plan that would add a member to the Supreme Court for every existing member over the age of 70, for a maximum possible total of 15 total members
- Failed. Roosevelt was ripped for trying to be a dictator.

Supreme Court

Congressional opposition was beginning to grow; many of his laws, including the WPA, were taking a long time to get passed and met resistance.

- Schechter v. United States
  - The Schechter brothers had a poultry business in Brooklyn.
  - They had been convicted in 1933 of violating the NIRA's Live Poultry Code; they had sold diseased chickens and violated the code's wage-and-hour provisions.
  - Known as the "sick chicken case."
  - The Supreme Court said that the Constitution did not allow the Congress to lend its powers to the executive; the NIRA was unconstitutional.
  - This suggested that the Supreme Court would make similar decisions in regards to the New Deal.

The Committee for Industrial Organization

- The United Mine Workers union began to work with other unions to organize workers in industries where unions did not exist.
- To do this, they formed the CIO
  - They began with automobile and steel industries—two of the largest industries
  - In late December 1936, General Motors launched a sit-down strike due to the demotion of two workers
  - Violence broke out in Flint when police launched a tear gas assault on one of the smaller plants.
  - Afterwards, GM broke down and recognized the CIO union, United Auto Workers as its employees' sole bargaining organization.
  - This led to others using the sit-down strike as a method in other industries.
The Twilight of the New Deal

- Finally, FDR embraced the policies of British economist John Maynard Keynes.
- Reorganization Act
- Hatch Act

New Deal or Raw Deal?

- Foes of the New Deal condemned its waste, citing that nothing had been accomplished.
- Critics were shocked by the “try anything” attitude of FDR, who had increased the federal debt from $19.487 million in 1932 to $40.440 million in 1939.
- WWII critics claimed he was the savior

FDR’s Balance Sheet

- New Dealers claimed that the New Deal had alleviated the worst of the Great Depression
- FDR also deflected popular resentments against business and may have saved the American system of free enterprise, yet business tycoons hated him.
- He provided bold reform without revolution

Dust Bowls and Black Blizzards

- After the drought of 1933, furious winds whipped up dust into the air
- Fazier-Lemke Farm Bankruptcy Act

- Indian Reorganization Act (Indian New Deal) Some Indians refused to sign

Housing Reform and Social Security

- Federal Housing Administration (FHA)
- U.S. Housing Authority (USHA)
- Social Security Act of 1935
  - greatest victory for New Dealers, since it created pension and insurance for the old-aged, the blind, the physically handicapped, delinquent children, and other dependents by taxing employees and employers.

A New Deal for Unskilled Labor

- Wagner Act under control of National Labor Relations Board
- Committee for Industrial Organization (CIO)
- In 1938, the Fair Labor Standards Act (Wages and Hours Bill) was passed, setting up minimum wage and maximum hours standards and forbidding children under the age of sixteen from working.
